Central Hindu Military Education Society's

BHONSALA MILITARY COLLEGE, NASHIK

Central Hindu Military Education Society : A body devoted to promoting education

Our founder Dr. B. S. Moonje made an epoch-making contribution in founding the Central Hindu Military Education Society, our parent body, in the year 1935. He was, then, fired by the desire of Indianization of forces. He was a firm believer in the adage 'MIGHT IS RIGHT'. He knew that the right path to independence of India was by empowering its youth in mind and body.

Bhonsala Military College : A pioneer educational institution devoted to promoting Military Education

In the year 1986, the Bhonsala Military College came into existence. It is privately supported and partially residential co-educational institute. The college conducts U.G and P.G programmes in Arts, Science and Commerce streams with special emphasis on Defence and Strategic Studies. The college is accredited by NAAC and is affiliated to the Savitribai Phule Pune University.

Vision :

Bhonsala Military College is a pioneering institution which promotes academics with a perfect blend of military values in a caring, value based environment, which encourages students to be energetic, purposeful, creative, service oriented, responsible, dignified and integrated citizens to make notable contribution to the armed forces and civil services.

Mission :

With learning as its central mission, Bhonsala Military College responds to the needs of diverse students' community by offering high quality, affordable, and accessible learning opportunities for all-round development of mental, physical and spiritual faculties through inculcation of strong value system culminating into national development.

Objectives -

- To prepare students for the relevant University examinations.
- To develop their personality by intellectual and physical activities.
- To encourage students to take up careers in the Armed Forces of the country.
- To prepare students for different competitive examinations conducted by M.P.S.C. and U.P.S.C.

Objectives of PDC

The PDC has been designed by specifically keeping the empowerment of a girl child in mind. The objectives of PDC are

1. Shape the overall personality of the participant
2. Sow the seeds of confidence and courage
3. Build resilience and make them self reliant
4. Ignite their fire of creativity
5. Instill the spirit of team work and camaraderie
6. Make them aware about good-touch bad-touch

This summer gift your daughter a life time camping experience to explore and develop Knowledge, Attitude, Skills and Habit (KASH) which will help her perform better in academics as well in her day to day life.

Outcome of the Course :

Successful completion of the course will prepare the girls to face the adversities of life with courage and conviction. Each girl who steps out of the campus after completion of the course will go on to become an alert student, a responsible citizen and above all a considerate human being.
